

Question:

How does Alliance Bank protect my accounts from internet fraud?

Answer:

Our service uses the latest Internet security technology, including secure communications (SSL), firewalls, encryption and operating systems that have been designed to provide maximum security.

While we have numerous security measures to protect the confidentiality of your online banking transactions, you are also responsible for maintaining security. Keep to yourself your password, account numbers, personal identification information and other account data.